

Proposition Learn and the FHSD Strategic Plan

With the help of our community, FHSD has spent the past eight months carefully examining our District's strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats as part of developing a new five-year strategic plan. More than 2,000 District stakeholders provided input during nine different community engagement meetings and in three online surveys.

The community members involved in the strategic planning process identified several different areas of focus for the District, and these are reflected in the priorities of Proposition Learn. This includes an emphasis on technology, an innovative learning environment, academic and social-emotional support for students, and attracting high quality employees.

Our stakeholders have clearly stated their desire that Francis Howell continues to be an innovative, high achieving school district. Proposition Learn would provide resources for the District to offer the quality education, technology, student supports, and staffing that the people in our community have identified as important for them and for their children.
